Manager Talmadge Talks To Jaycees

Retiring City Manager Talmadge submitted to questions from the Jaycees at his last meeting Thursday following a talk with them concerning the City's business and particularly the City Manager's functions and responsibilities.

These youthful civic workers lived up to their reputation and asked questions in many instances with the gloved hand bare. Considerable interest was maintained in the question and answer period and the boys left feeling like they had gained some of the intimate knowledge of city affairs.

Co. Asks Action On 2 Glades Roads

Two Everglades road projects came under county commission discussion Friday when the Board of Commissioners met in an effort to get action.

Rardin said one project, the mill for more than two years and a conflict of opinion over ownership of the road is holding up the program. He won support for a motion to find out "once and for all the county can build the proposed road."

Delay in completion of a project for improving State Road 715 in Palokoe prompted the commission to authorize a letter to the governor and chairman of the state road board to find out why the work has not been completed.

Southern Bell Pays $1,810,414 Taxes

One of the largest tax-payment checks received by the State of Florida in payment of 1949 Utility Taxes was delivered March 13, 1951 to the Comptroller from the Southern Bell Company.

The payment added $1,810,414 and was delivered by John W. Evans, Assistant Vice President for Southern Bell Telephone Company to pay General State Comptroller.

Southern Bell's Tax payments have increased significantly in the past five years. The $1,810,414 payment represents an increase of 88 percent over the 1946 payment of $1,447,799 and a 100 percent increase over the 1945 payment of $905,907.

The March 13, 1951 check is part of an estimated $12,246,000 tax bill to be paid by Southern Bell to the State of Florida and its municipalities for the year of 1949, exclusive of income, social security and excise tax payments to the federal government.

New Look

Council Chambers Have Modern Decor

For the first time since the late President, Franklin D. Roosevelt and his Federal Emergency Administration authorized construction of the building, formerly named at the time "Belle Glade Town Hall 1939," major changes have taken place "up stairs."

Replacing an antiquated podium, the new data is tiled with synthetic flooring on which rests the new half oval Council Table of American Cherry. All improvements, suggested and instigated by City Manager, C. B. Talmadge, were carried through without fanfare, but admitted by all to be a most obvious enhancement to an outmoded meeting room. Comfortable, upholstered, tan, leather, executive chairs, finished in walnut, now grace Councilmen as places to sit rather than the old type "official seat of authority" formerly used.

Jaycees Paint Country Club Bldg.

With the City and the Club furnishing paint and the refreshments, Belle Glade managed to get enough paint on the clubhouse to emphasize their activity of repainting it. Much of the City's paint was found on the painters when the job was declared completed.

Strong arms and hearts were there working away.

Willis Warren, Mrs. Clayton Waters Head Cancer Crusade

A team of veteran Cancer Crusaders representing nearly every section of the county will be heading up the annual fund raising and educational campaign to be held during April to aid the American Cancer Society in its fight against cancer.

For the first time in the history of the local cancer unit, state leadership will be coming from Palm Beach County in the person of Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson who is serving as State Crusade Chairman this year and is already at work on the assignment.

Throughout most of the county, Chairman Tevrough said, community Crusades are being directed by chairmen who have served previously in these assignments or who have taken an active part in past Crusades as volunteers.

Willis Warren is Chairman of Belle Glade and Mrs. Clayton Waters is Chairman for South Bay.

Some 4,000 volunteer workers will be working on the Crusade, Tevrough said, most of them in the house to house drive which is set for Sunday, April 9 which has been designated Cancer Sunday.

A goal of $100,000 has been set for the Palm Beach County drive which is being raised during the Crusade last year.

The County Commission indicated this week that it isn't the least bit interested in the bill to divide Lake Okeechobee into a five-way pie - a proposal that is being advocated by some surrounding counties.

Division of the Lake would mean a different split in state funds which are returned to the county. Area size of the county determines the amount each county receives in federal funds.

J. Thomas," recalls names and events important to two families and many friends of the Thomases.

Rardin Opposes Taxpayers Buying Liquor License!

"I never thought I would see the day the taxpayers would be called upon to buy a liquor license" County Commissioner Paul Rardin says.

The occasion was the proposal to buy a license for a bar at the International Airport which would be bought by the County and assigned for a price to the lounge operator.

R. W. (Bob) Lanier Elected By Rotary

A report of the incident says "abandoning her own three small children, Mrs. Thomas rushed across the field to the edge of the muddy pond, waded until she was waist-deep, and then she pulled the body of the boy from the water." "My neighbor ran over too, but she couldn't swim, so I went in," Mrs. Thomas said, "He was floating face down about five feet out. I don't know how long I gave him artificial respiration before he started breathing again. Maybe five minutes; you can't tell how long it takes in that kind of a situation."

Do RED CROSS drives need further argument - one life saved by former Belle Glade Junior Red Cross member should be a high reward for support of this 1951 phase of Red Cross activities.

HELPING HARVEST CABBAGE to send to Cuban refugees in Miami. The minister of Community Methodist Church and a number of young people from that church have discovered a way to help needy people in a unique manner. Gardening In Florida

Hydrangeas are as fickle as girls who tint their hair to match the color of their boy friends' cars.

Blue flowering hydrangeas will change to pink blossoms, if lime is added to the soil.

How much lime? That depends on the acidity of the soil. Try a pound of hydrated lime to a bushel-bucket size dooryard plant and much smaller amount for potted plants. For full color change, a second application may be needed.

To change pink hydrangeas to blue, mix 3 ounces of aluminum sulfate in a gallon of water. Soak the plant roots with this solution. If the blue has not developed in a few days, give the plant another shot of the acid chemical.

Hydrangeas do best in partial shade. This is another tip from horticulturists with the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Also, if they develop yellow leaves this spring, it's probably iron chlorosis.

To correct chlorosis add 4 ounces of ferrous sulfate to 5 gallons of water and apply to the soil at the rate of one-half gallon per large plant.

Mulches Warm weather always brings weeks. Extension service specialists say the best way to fight them is with a mulch. And there's hardly a plant that will not thrive better with a protective ground cover.

Mulches also conserve moisture, keep plant roots cooler during the heat of summer and prevent a build-up of pesky nematodes that gnaw on roots.

Any types of mulch will do. Use what's available, such as leaves, pine straw or even post-holes. Mulch all the plants annual and shrubs alike. It will save hours of pulling weeds this summer.

It's all right to mulch dooryard citrus trees, provided the mulch is kept about 12 inches away from the trunk. Citrus trees are apt to take a root rot if trash is banked against the tree.

A hand of fingered size gravel is one way of solving the mulch problem near the citrus trunk. A circle of gravel around other trees in the yard will keep them from getting their shins barked by the lawn mower.

Cuttings It's an excellent time to make cuttings of a multitude of things. Poinsettia, ixora, ligustrum, azalea, croton and viburnum are just a few plants that you'll have good luck rooting.

Locate the cutting bed in a shady spot. Sand is the most widely used propagating material. It may not be the best, but it's the cheapest.

Most ornamental form heavy root systems more quickly in cutting mediums containing acid peat. Only experience will show you the best mediums for the different plants.

When choosing cuttings remember that ease of rooting increases the nearer the cuttings are taken to the root system, provided the plant piece is in an acceptable stage of semi-hardy growth.

If you want to keep spring annuals, blooming another month keep the mature flowers cut. If allowed to go to seed, it's all over.

To keep those dime-a-piece tomato plants protected from birds, try wrapping a paper collar around the stem. Insert the collar into the soil and hold the top together with a paper clip.

Club Aid Asked

Scholarship And Educational Needs Outlined At Belle Glade Lions Club

Problems and needs in Education were outlined by Nelson Morris and Hermon Close at a Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Belle Glade Lions Club.

Principal Pellon Morris spoke first on the tentative scholarship program underway for Belle Glade school students. "One of the prime responsibilities of civic-minded individuals, within or without a group, is the encouraging of young people to take advantage of educational opportunities available to each of them in light of his or her own capabilities and financial resources," Mr. Morris reminded the group.

He said fourteen Belle Glade clubs are being contacted with the hope that at least 10 out of the 14 will respond with a $100 per year annual contribution toward the fund. Five local clubs have already pledged their support and five more are needed to complete plans of the four year plan as outlined at a total cost of $4,500.00.

This fund would provide educational opportunities over a four year period as follows: 5 students, 1 year of college; 15 students, 2 years; 1 student, 3 years; and 1 student 4 years.

The PTA has already outlined plans for distribution for the scholarship funds, Mr. Morris said.

Hermon Close outlined some of the urgent needs of Florida Schools. The Florida Educational Committee has studied these needs for the past two years and Floraline, a variety of St. Augustine grass developed at the Gainesville Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, may soon be released in limited quantity.
